As a full time uni student, the Lumiere provides an escape from the stresses of work, at least for a few hours. The quality and quantity of the films shown are something unique to the lumiere, so if the council is serious about making Christchurch cool they'll see the lumiere and the arts center as an invaluable asset in that plight.

The Arts centre is one of the few remaining heritage buildings in Christchurch. Forward thinking and a huge effort was put into strengthening and saving these building prior to and following the quakes. The place is a hive of activity and is just getting back on its feet. To remove funding to the Arts centre seems incredibly short-sighted and a misunderstanding of the importance of Art, Culture and Heritage to citizens.

Art makes people feel connected and seen, if someone is feeling lonely or sad or anything really they can find comfort in art. And without funding and possibly with the art centre dexisting we will lose the sense of community through arts.

Our arts centre is pivotal to the history and fabric of our city. It represents the very heart of our city and is thriving as a tourist attraction as well as a place that Cantabrians visit with pride. How could you possibly consider snubbing the Arts Centre, whilst throwing millions at the A&P show , a weekend fair which surely should recover its own costs. It is a shameful proposition that must be reconsidered

Please continue to fund and support the arts centre it is an amazing place that elevates Christchurch's art and cultural heritage. The arts overall continues to get less funding in many areas of New Zealand when its impact and importance not only culturally but to society is huge. I urge you to reconsider your position in retracting funding to such a significant organisation.

The Art Centre continues for me to be one of the most magical parts of this city not just for me but now my children. I would support a proportion of my rates going to keep the Arts Centre going for the generations to come

The Arts Centre is a rare and precious area, along with the many businesses and arts endeavours it supports – which all help define Christchurch's distinct character. While it's a tough funding environment right now, once these things go they're hard to get back. It would be a real shame to see The Arts Centre get defunded.

I know I won't be the first to say this - the art centre is a vital organ in our city - for me it was a sanctuary when I was a teen - I had lessons in the building that is now a hotel - I performed in the great hall more times than I can remember - I have been transformed, uplifted and inspired by performances in that space - this is a place that I feel belonging and connection as with many others - just as some people feel this in a church or a stadium. Us humans need art and expression and beauty - the art centre needs the city's support - please treasure our taonga

The art centre needs to be funded, because a city with no funding for the arts is a city with no life, and no creativity and no joy. Funding the arts has a massive impact on the community of artists that use the space as well as the people who come to enjoy the arts on display. I believe the net effect of funding for the arts is way greater than its dollar input.

The Arts Centre has been an absolutely pivotal role in my development as a fulltime arts practitioner and provider of joy to hundreds of thousands of Cantabrians and global citizens over my 24 year professional career. (And before that as an arts and craft maker and student.) I first attended the Court Theatre in 1979 or so to see Bad Jelly the Witch and pretty much decided on the spot that was my career choice. I then grew up attending so many incredibly memorable productions there like The Three Musketeers, Little Shop of Horrors and The Crucible. I was also heavily invested in Scared Scriptless in the early 90's attending countless times. And since 2000 I have been a full time professional improviser and have represented NZ in Theatresports. And tho the Court is no longer there, other arts organisations can provide the same inspiration. The restaurants through this time were also so formative. Who doesn't remember the Boulevard Bakehouse's famous muffins. Le Cafe's chicken nachos and Annie's Wine Bar. Then I studied drama and University which involved long sessions in the Free Theatre. I have spent countless hours in that space workshopping, rehearsing and developing theatre which again has informed my career. Then to save money for my OE I had a stall in the Arts Centre market in its heyday making decoupage objet d'art. I loved interacting with the general public and having Dimitri's souvlaki for lunch. I moved to Auckland in 1998 but every visit home generally involved browsing the shops etc.. at The Arts Centre. And then in 2005 I was programmed in the Buskers Festival and again spent countless hours watching my fellow performers in the quad. The Buskers had golden times at the Dux de Lux and in the quad. Though many of these institutions have moved on others will fill the space. Bunsen is a new cafe hub of the past decade. Shows now regularly grace the Great Hall and arts residencies will inspire new generations. It boggles my mind so much work would go into restoring something to suddenly cut it off at the knees. I am well aware the whole world is suffering from lack of funds in every conceivable way, but The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch, historically with Rutherford's Den and the former home of the Court, to the architectural jewel it is to what new things may come. And if it passes to council ownership, as other festivals and cultural icons have done, only to languish without the dedicated specialists to look after it, well that would be a waste too. Not to malign the council who have far too much to do already, but it makes the most sense to leave it in the hands of those who know it best. Thanks

Dear Christchurch City Council, My name is Hollie Fullbrook, I represent my band, Tiny Ruins, based in Tāmaki Makaurau. We are concerned and disappointed by the news that The Arts Centre is under threat. We were lucky enough to be able to perform and stay at The Arts Centre last year, and were so impressed by the quality of the festival (Off Centre Festival), the beautiful atmosphere and richness of performance offered to the general public - as well as with how amazing the premises and accommodation was for artists in residence. We all felt what a great city Christchurch was blossoming into, in its support for the arts, and what a great path it was on. I have also spoken with my friend Bic Runga about how incredible a space / what a treasure it is. I ask the Councillors to now seriously try to save The Arts Centre by including it as a matter of priority for the city's Long Term Plan. The alternative route seems like a drawn out and complex process with little to no actual benefit to ratepayers. Know that The Arts Centre was a real drawcard for the current feeling of positive change and growth for the city, and that we are really sad to hear of its current crisis. Please do all you can to secure it for future generations of musicians, writers and artists. Ngā mihi nui, Hollie Fullbrook

It would be irresponsible not to fund the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is like a pair of lungs for the city. A immense treasure that we must protect at all cost. I take a lot of pride in working at Cellar Door and getting to work in such a magical place, but I also take great pleasure in experiencing with my daughter the different activities that are on. Lumières is our go-to for movies. The great hall is our go-to for concerts and photo exhibitions. Altiora is our go-to for acrobatics. The Arts Centre plays a crucial role in the city and it's just so important that it receives the necessary funding to keep giving to the community.

The Christchurch Arts Centre connects thousands of people to the city they live, work and play in. It is more than just another location for art and entertainment, it is a place to feel proud of when we refer to this great city. Sharing art and culture together in a beautiful welcoming environment makes us all feel human. If we lose this great treasure the city will lose it's heart and hopes for a brighter future.

The Arts Centre is an incredibly significant hub of culture for Ōtautahu Christchurch - it celebrates so much of our art and our people, brings us together, holds our history, and educates and delights us all. Losing such a wonderful place for lack of funding would be an embarrassing failure of the Council to recognise the things that truly make the city of Christchurch such an incredible place to be - our complete and utter love for art, culture, and coming together to celebrate Cantabrian pride.

Dear Christchurch City Council, I hope this message finds you well. I'm writing to stress the importance of continued funding for the Christchurch Arts Centre. It's a vital hub for cultural expression, community engagement and economic growth. The Arts Centre serves as a beacon of creativity and inclusivity, enriching the cultural landscape of our city. Its presence not only supports local artists, but also attracts tourists, boosting our economy. I urge you to prioritise funding for the Arts Centre to ensure its continued impact on our community. Your support is vital to maintaining the vibrant cultural fabric of Christchurch. Thank you for your attention to this matter. Yours sincerely, Annika

The Arts Centre is really a building and place that showcases the best of Christchurch. It has music, food, the arts, education, beautiful architecture and it is finally after years of restoration truly coming alive. It is home to the University, a host of community organisations (including the girls choir that I accompany) and has a wide range of facilities for the community. If they don't get the funding they need we may lose many of the above things and it will be such a shame. The council should really really think hard about this decision as it will greatly affect a wide range of communities, ages and cultures. Now more than ever we should be funding places like these.

As an "out of Towner", the Art Centre is the place that identifies Christchurch for me and is a major drawcard. Sadly there is little public built history left in good condition in chch. If there is anything worthwhile saving and supporting, this is it. It contributes significantly to chchs rich cultural, educational and social history.

Please fund The Arts Centre so it can continue to offer cultural experiences and artistic exploration for all of the Ōtautahi community and visitors but especially for our tamariki. In the past 7 years my two tamariki have had the opportunity to take part in countless events and activities including writing, art and music workshops, star gazing in the Observatory Tower, they have enjoyed Matariki and Off Centre Festivals, added their voices and art to public works, learnt about architecture, made ceramic bowls, watched puppet shows, laughed at buskers, watched their first opera, heard classical music, sung along to carols, learnt about Rutherford, enjoyed Halloween in the heritage buildings PLUS countless offer activities. The Arts Centre has nurtured their creativity and provided a space for them to learn and explore. It plays an invaluable role for arts in Ōtautahi. Please ensure it can continue to offer enriching experiences in the future by providing the funding needed to keep the Centre running. Thank you.

Please keep funding the Christchurch Art Centre, it is actually the heart of the City, it's a cultural centre of creativity and learning of history and beauty. Without funding it it won't be able to offer all the fantastic projects and activities that entertain inform and delight so many especially tamakiki. Without a fully functioning Art Centre Christchurch centre will become an anodyne metropolitan city without that special area that distinguishes us as from other cities - where it is just about shopping, restaurants and bars. We are so much more than that as a City and the Art Centre is and alway should be the vibrant beating heart of our evolving, wonderful City.

As someone in the event industry, I have seen The Art Centre used as a magical spot for many people's special day. The venue has been great to us and ensuring that someone's wedding, gala dinner, fundraisers all go smoothly. As a parent I have taken my son through The Art Centre many times and every time we find something new, he loves exploring and seeing the history that these buildings hold. It will be shame if they are no longer funded and lose the opportunities that have been had and could be had in the future.

Public value warrants public money. There are countless individual stories where the Arts Centre has made lives richer, and the impact is far reaching. Heritage isn't just pretty buildings - a gem to look at - heritage is a cultural engine - a gem to use - drawing in talent, creating opportunity, inspiring the future. Kill this and CHCH becomes a dull city, and (to many) a dead city. When $ is tight, all the more reason to spend where it matters.

The mental health of each person who attends the Lunchtime Concerts each Monday is increased considerably due to the music, the venue and the friendship which each attendee receives. People who attend these concerts also enjoy time with others prior to the concert having a coffee with others. A simple act but one which is so beneficial giving a feeling of belonging. This is only one benefit of the Arts Centre as a whole. This was a gift to our city and the Concerts for Christchurch provide such an amazing programme of music. In return those who attend are given the gift to spend an hour in beautiful surroundings experiencing local and international artists willing to share their talents.

It's always been a place that I have been proud to bring visitors to Christchurch for a unique and joyful experience. It is also a place that I have enjoyed visiting regularly since moving to this city over 30 years ago. Surely it's a crucial part of this town's tourist attraction infrastructure and has played a key role as such for decades. As such why would you stop funding it? The Arts Centre is one of the most immediately recognizable and valued institutions in Christchurch for residents and visitors alike. Partly for its unique heritage setting but also for its vibrant mix of people and activities. All of which are testament to the vision of the people responsible for starting it; and the tenacity of those that have maintained it, saved it from disaster and generally supported it. It is unique in New Zealand and it is a fallacy to assume that it can continue to be the asset it has become without public support, in the form of funding from the City Council. The return to the city, whether measured in financial returns or cultural capital, rewards us all many times over and once lost, will take generations to recapture. It is essential that the Arts Centre is funded and it is one of the best uses of our rates (speaking as a rate payer). Please don't cease the wonderful legacy that the Arts Centre represents - we owe it to future generations to preserve all aspects of the Arts Centre, lest it could become a set of dusty old buildings, closed to the public, an historical footnote, and nothing more.

The council should fund the art center because it would provide a creative space for the community, support local artists, and promote cultural enrichment. It would also attract visitors, boost the local economy, and enhance the overall quality of life in the area. Plus, art has the power to inspire, educate, and bring people together! 🗣️👉🏠😊

It's outrageous that this Gothic Revival masterpiece is under such threat. If there's one building the CCC should preserve its the wonderful Arts Centre. Make it as economically sustainable as possible but the balance must be properly funded by the people of Christchurch!

The Christchurch Arts Centre is one of the only places in the city where the arts are encouraged and shared with our population. While almost always undervalued, art is an integral part of a cities vibrancy and without it our central city will become increasingly unappealing to both its inhabitants and tourists. I strongly advise that the decision to cut funding is repealed, and instead that we as a city invest in the assets that make Christchurch a wonderful place to live and visit.

The arts centre is such a big part of the Christchurch. I am inspired going to the building itself, the shops, the galleries and love all the events they host. It is a place for creativity to flourish and be showcased. It would be very disappointing if the council did not fund the arts centre.

The Arts Centre is an important historical gift for our city and it's our collective responsibility to make sure it's accessible now and into the future. The trust work tirelessly to provide valuable events and spaces for our local community to enjoy and be inspired and they are already doing it on a ridiculously tight budget. Assist them with their rates and insurance costs, fund their programmes and events and DON'T cut funding. It will end up being the CCC's problem in a round about way anyway and what will be the total cost if that is the case? Short-term thinking for long term pain. I love The Arts Centre and support them wholeheartedly.

The Arts Centre is such a key part of the heritage of our city. My first interaction with it was on a school field trip, where we learnt about the history of Rutherford and the important people of Chch. By cutting funding, you will be responsible for future generations lack of understanding about abd connection to local history and their place in it. My second encounter with the arts centre was for a winter night market, which was of the first moment I saw Chch as a community. The open nature and quiet atmosphere of the Centre promotes connection and requires people to stop and look up from their phones. The most recent time I have been impacted by the Art Centre, was at a poetry workshop, which promoted conception to history. The historical venue was such an important part of the workshop, and by providing youth a link to the past, creates a more meaningful connection with their city. In such an individualized world, we desperately need more third spaces in which people can congregate, learn, and feel connected to their history, and continuing the funding for the Arts Centre, is one of the vital steps towards making Christchurch connected, and beautiful city.

The Arts Centre is a national jewel and we are fortunate enough to have in Christchurch. It has great history and is a vital part of the essential spirit of Christchurch. Following the devastating Canterbury earthquakes in which it was severely damaged, it has been rebuilt and repaired at huge expense. It is not only stunningly beautiful but it is a safe and reliable venue. It attracts locals and visitors alike and is full of happy and excited people. To even consider stopping Christchurch City Council funding of The Arts Centre reveals a Council that does not care for its priceless assets and its residents and visitors. This ridiculous proposal needs to be rejected out of hand.

The effort and money that went into the restoration was well worth it, look at the treasure we have that is The Arts Centre - buildings and people. The money for the earthquake restoration came from insurers, grants, and donations; the council funded none of the restoration. Through the last Long-term Plan the council was given the green light from the people of Christchurch to provide funding to The Arts Centre. This needs to be an ongoing annual contribution to ensure this treasure is there for further generations. Council long term plan states as one of the community outcomes that it wants to 'protect their heritage and pursue their arts, cultural and sporting interests and contribute to making our city a creative, cultural and events powerhouse' - protect and pursue it by putting your money where your mouth is and fund the Arts Centre.

The Christchurch arts centre is both a place of great historic and cultural value. Where the arts, culture and food combine and are shared with not only locals but tourists as well. It would be sad day to see a place like this lose out on the chance to provide for our communities and continue to be the hub that they are. As both a student at Canterbury University and an artist I would happily say that the arts centre is my favourite place in the city. It should be fostered not hindered! I hope there is the chance that the Christchurch City Council can reconsider.

It is imperative the CCC continues to fund the Arts Centre it is almost all that remains of pre earthquake Christchurch forming a precinct with the museum, provincial building and Cathedral. Why bother restoring the buildings to now kick it to the kerb? The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch and a must do experience for visitors. It is being sacrificed for a rugby stadium! This is so wrong.

The Arts Centre is the cultural and historic hub of Christchurch. The current use respects the history of the buildings and their historic architectural Beauty. They are absolutely unique in New Zealand, and rare on a global scale. To see them used for other commercial uses would be sacrilegious. Written as a former student (and Boys High alumni) who spent my graduate and undergraduate life here in the 60s, under the shadow of Rutherford ... he would turn in his grave. Please respect the vision of the City founders in developing such an historic and iconic site by maintaining it as a cultural heritage.

The Arts Centre has huge insurance and rates bills each year which in the past your funding has paid for. They will be insolvent within 2 years if you don't fund them as you have done in the past. The arts centre is vital to the heart of the city and must be helped now to avoid a costly situation down the track. Reconsider.

It's a special place and every local loves it, for childhood memories and its post-quake revival as well. While it's not perfect, please keep funding it, the cost is a drop in the ocean compared to the council budget and the arts centre as we know it is irreplaceable and doesn't deserve to have its fate up in the air

Please continue with funding for The Arts Centre. The Arts Centre gives people of all ages, ethnicity, countries and all walks of life the opportunity to participate in countless activities and events including art, history, music and science to name a few. I used to work in these heritage buildings. It is an excellent use of the old Canterbury University currently at a minimum cost to the Christchurch ratepayers. The Arts Centre staff have made that happen for and on behalf of the people of Christchurch.

The Arts Centre is an extraordinary building that offers you the chance to learn about the history of Christchurch and the fascinating students that attended such as Ernest Rutherford. Its deep history is something that should be nurtured for future generations and it now boasts a modern design that hosts many cultural performances and experiences to all. I have visited many times and I love how they offer many free performances allowing everyone rich or poor to enjoy the facility. This facility must be kept on its current course or New Zealand will lose a piece of its heart. Save The Arts Centre x

Funding for arts center is crucial for fostering creativity, cultural enrichment, and community engagement. These centers serve as vital hubs where artists can innovate, collaborate, and showcase their work, contributing to the cultural vibrancy of society. Financial support enables these centers to provide accessible programming, workshops, and exhibitions, ensuring that diverse voices and perspectives are represented and celebrated. Additionally, investing in the art center stimulates economic growth by attracting tourists, spurring local spending, and generating employment opportunities in the creative sector. Beyond economic benefits, these institutions play a pivotal role in education, offering valuable learning experiences and fostering critical thinking skills among patrons of all ages. Ultimately, funding for art center is an investment in the soul of the community, enriching lives, inspiring imaginations, and promoting social cohesion.

The Arts Centre is a piece of local history. NZ has a very young history and we have very few buildings of architectural value such as the Art Centre. The building and the activities it attracts are a focal point of CHCH and should be valued and preserved. The council should remain contributing custodians of the building.

Cutting funding to such an integral part of our city is honestly just demoralising, and shows just how out of touch the council is with the people of Christchurch. The Arts Centre is a key location not just for locals but for tourists and visitors as well. It's part of our history and part of our image; if anything funding should be Increased. Please do the right thing by the residents of Christchurch and the wider Canterbury region, and continue funding our Arts centre.

The Arts Centre is a historic landmark, removing funding is short sighted especially when it is already home to private, rent-paying businesses. The Council seems to be happy using public funds propping up the stadium that the public has to pay exorbitant amounts of money for tickets to visit for half a day, yet balks at funding a centre for arts and education open to everyone.

The Arts Centre is iconic, much loved historical and cultural part of Christchurch for those people who grew up here. I personally spent a lot of time there from a young age right through my 20s. Having gone to Ballet, modern dance and art classes there it made me appreciate the historic buildings even more. As an adult in my 20s I regularly visited the markets and worked at Le Cafe for 2 years from 2001-2003. My best friend growing up, her father had his office/business on the Hereford Street side of the Arts Centre and I always enjoyed visiting him there because it usually meant treats from the market. Every Cantabrian I know has benefitted in some way from what the arts centre gave them culturally and personally. No funding will mean less children learning the arts and in turn more screen time and poor behaviour giving a negative effect. Children should be well rounded and the arts is an important aspect of this.

Art is freedom, art is opportunity, the theft of art is the theft of individuality. Every age group, every race, every gender, every identity needs art for expression, for mental health. To lose a center like this will feel like it is all being stripped away. Kids who don't have these opportunities in school, or in home, need this outlet.

Having visited the center numerous times in the past, I have personally witnessed the immense value it brings to our community. It is not just a building, but a vibrant hub of creativity, inspiration, and learning. It is a place where people of all ages come together to explore, create, and appreciate art in its many forms. The Arts Center has played a pivotal role in fostering a sense of community and belonging. It has provided a platform for local artists to showcase their talent, and for our community members to engage in enriching cultural experiences. I firmly believe that the loss of such an institution would be a significant blow to the cultural fabric of our community. Therefore, I urge you to consider the profound impact the Arts Center has on our community and to take action to ensure its survival.

- Art holds a pivotal role in human life, offering many benefits that profoundly impacts our Taha tinana (physical health), Taha wairua (spiritual health), Taha hinengaro (mental health), whenua and Taha whānau (social wellbeing). Art serves as a powerful medium for expressing emotions and sentiments that often elude verbal communication. Whether it's through painting, sculpture, music, or dance, art provides a unique avenue for individuals and collectives to convey their deepest feelings to others. The Arts Centre supports our collective taha whānau, taha tinana, taha wairua and taha hinengaro. - The Arts Centre actively fosters creativity and nurtures the imagination. This stimulation contributes to innovative thinking, the development of problem-solving skills, and the cultivation of a mindset that embraces unconventional approaches. We want a community that brings diversity of thought and the Arts Centre has a role to play in supporting a thriving and diverse community. - The Arts Centre provides a focal point for the city's art and crafts community. As Heritage NZ notes - It is significant as the site of one of the earliest of New Zealand's university colleges and as a splendid collection of Gothic Revival buildings designed by a variety of Canterbury architects. Without support from Council the Arts Centre would diminish as a focal point for the art and crafts community. - The Art Centre is good for the Christchurch economy. When artists make money from their hard work, it all comes full circle. They spend more money on art supplies, frequent surrounding places like bars, pubs, restaurants, and events, making it good for the economy, small businesses and more. Also, when a community is bustling with creativity and has a vibrant art scene filled with attractions like the Art Centre, tourists will come from all over to see. The Art Centre is vital for supporting Christchurch's art and crafts sector in greater Christchurch and should be supported in every way possible. Christchurch City - please continue your funding support for the Arts Centre.

The Art centre is wonderful for the community no matter from what demographic you are from, everyone is welcome, there is something for everyone. Prior to visiting Christchurch many times told friends, they also visit the art centre every time and experience several things they have on offer, even the shows in the Great Hall, forever amazed at what is going on, and to see it humming again after earthquake is truly great. For the grandchildren it has many education programmes and school holiday programmes, which children enjoy, the performances in the Great Hall is superb, been to many, including the puppet show with the grandchildren. To take all this away, would be a great loss to the community and tourists !!

The Arts Centre is the jewel in the crown of Ōtautahi. Its galleries, hospitality venues, shops, market, and architecture are well loved and the restoration post earthquake was a phenomenal achievement. Please don't let the Arts centre be lost to us. What a tragedy that would be. Please continue to fund it. Don't be the council whose legacy would be to let it go.

The Arts Centre has always been central to the development of arts, music and culture in Christchurch. This is crucial in building a rich cultural community and provides an opportunity for Christchurch to connect together in rich and diverse ways. A community without culture is stagnant. We need to develop opportunities for innovation and creative thinking and the Arts Centre is a direct contributor to this. There is clear international research evidence to support this. The city has invested in keeping it, so keep it and support it. I have sung in the Arts Centre many times throughout my life. I'm now a member of Voices NZ, NZ's top chamber choir, and my experience at the Arts Centre contributed to this. It's important that my children and your children also have the opportunity to develop their musical and artistic abilities. My life would not be the same without this. You must continue supporting this.

I believe that the education, academy, galleries, museum and performances/events that the Art Centre offers are an important part of Christchurch's artistic future, just as they have been a treasured part of the city's history. They add depth and diversity to Christchurch's culture. It would be a loss for the community if the beautiful heritage buildings that make up the Art Centre were used for something else.

Why should we save the Arts Centre? Allow me to address this question from two perspectives: as a young member of the Christchurch community and as a small business owner. Upon starting my small business and navigating life as a young student in Christchurch, I encountered significant challenges in connecting with the food community and felt isolated. As a food truck operator, finding a welcoming space to trade was very difficult and often seemed it was incredibly hard, and often impossible at times. However, the Arts Centre offered a great contrast. From its leadership to fellow food vendors, security team, and volunteers, we were embraced with open arms. Our dream of operating a food truck was truly realized within its welcoming environment. The support and sense of belonging provided by the Arts Centre are unparalleled, benefiting both the community and small businesses alike. We are immensely grateful to consider the Arts Centre our "home" for our small business and take great pride in being part of its community of talented vendors, staff, managers, and artists. Having travelled all around the world during my childhood, I experienced countless work, educational, and social settings, and I can attest to the extraordinary passion and dedication shown by the Arts Centre staff in serving the community. I resonate deeply with that sense of passion and commitment for what you do and this highlights the importance of fostering such qualities in any community. So, why should we save the Arts Centre? Because if an organization can profoundly impact someone like myself—a young woman, student, and small business owner—in such a short span of time, it speaks volumes about its value. The Arts Centre serves as a beacon of opportunity for diverse individuals and enriches the community with positivity. Failing to fund the Arts Centre sends a disheartening message to young people and current/future business owners, suggesting that their dreams, creativity, and sense of community are not important.

We need to save what history we have left in this city. The Arts Center is Iconic. The council should think long and hard where the money is spent. I'm sure more tourists will be going there spending money than the covered stadium or the Metro sports facility which has more than doubled in price and still not finished Think long term , next generation . Something to hand on . So worth saving as we won't have any historical buildings left and the arts centre is a vibrant attractive buildings worth saving . We don't have anywhere else on the city that's like this . Great for tourists and local community to enjoy . All the hard work to date will be wasted time and money . Goes hand in hand with the cathedral as a beautiful example of historical architecture.

the arts centre is one of the most beautiful creative spaces left in christchurch. it's one of my favourite places to visit. the building itself is enriched with history and one of the last buildings that feels like christchurch pre earthquake. it's a time capsule filled with creativity and light. taking away the arts centre takes away a part of christchurch's identity and the history of who we were before the day the quakes hit.

As a ratepayer, I've been following this discussion in The Press. The Arts Centre is a fantastic facility in the heart of the city. I might be living on a fixed income, but I am more than happy to pay a wee bit extra in terms of annual rates in order to see the Arts Centre continue to thrive. Ongoing CCC funding in the Long Term Plan is a small price to pay & It needs to be paid.

It's a great attraction for the city- I grew up here and moved away but am now considering moving back to work at the hospital as a doctor. One of the reasons I am thinking about moving back is the cultural scene that is developing here, one of the places that is vital to this is the arts centre. It holds history as well as future potential and it would be such a terrible loss for it to lose public funding and for it to become an exclusively private facility that is just shops.

The Arts Centre is a vital part of our city's heritage that should be available and accessible to all in the city. Personally, the Arts Centre has held an important role in my own education as an artist growing up from violin lessons to drama and music performances from the age of 9 and beyond. A more recent workshop in the arts centre provided me with the confidence to put myself forward for and get a composition role for an international TV series I might not otherwise have had the confidence to put myself forward for. The Arts Centre plays a vital role in the development of our local artists and is central to our creative industry in the city and beyond. In my part time day job I work for a software company that provides service to the Arts Centre. Having that job allows me to maintain my practise as a singing teacher for the next generation of young performers many of whom have gone on to work professionally in the arts.

We value using the Arts Centre and that it is free. We value being able to bring ourselves and younger generations through to see our culture, arts and science. If we were charged to enter or if it were private it would be like charging for the Gardens. It would take away from the charm and use of the facility. It would be good if there were other options listed than just "ceasing to exist as we know it". Could there be a partial venue hire income along with exhibition fees for special events? Could we look to incorporate more market days, or make them permanent? Bring back the Dux with music performance space? We love this place so much and have watched it transform post earthquake into something we adore.
